PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a web designer and developer who loves turning ideas into clean, easy-to-use digital experiences. On the design side, I focus on wireframing, prototyping, and UI design. On the dev side, I work mainly with JavaScript, Python, and Bash—whether that's writing code from scratch, translating PSDs into responsive HTML, or doing code reviews. Beyond the technical work, I really enjoy working directly with clients, guiding teams, and solving tricky problems. Web tech moves fast, so I'm always learning new tools and ways to build better.
